Exams:

A comprehensive final exam will be given at the end of the semester. This will be worth 30% of your final grade.

Written Essays:

One paper of 2000-2500 words (8-12 double-spaced pages) will be required from each student. At the end of week 10, each student will have to complete and submit a topic paper form, and will then have to turn in the completed paper by the end of week 13. After receiving a grade and my comments on the paper, each student can optionally submit a revised version before the end of the semester, if that student desires to attempt to earn a higher grade for this assignment. The term paper will be worth 35% of the final class grade.

Weekly Writing Assignments:

Beginning with week 2, I will be assigning a roughly 250-word (or one-page long) summary on that week's reading due on the Sunday before the week starts. Assuming that there is more than one reading for the week (which there almost always will be) students will choose which of the two readings to summarize. Thoughtful summaries will receive full credit, while less than adequate ones will receive only half credit for that week's work. You will have to turn in seven of these, and each one will count for 5% of the final grade, for a total of 35% overall.

University services and policies:

Enrollment and registration statement:

The official registration deadline for self-adding this course is 1/19/25. University policy requires all students to be officially registered in each class they are attending. Students who are not officially registered for a course by published deadlines should not be attending classes and will not receive credit or a grade for the course. Each student must confirm enrollment by checking his/her class schedule (using Student Tools in FlashLine) prior to the deadline indicated. Registration errors must be corrected prior to the deadline.

The course withdrawal deadline is 3/30/25. The last day to drop without a “W” being assigned will be 1/26/25.

University Requirements:

For undergrads and philosophy majors and minors, this course may be used to satisfy upper division hours for university requirements. As a prerequisite, this class requires one previous course in philosophy, or else express departmental override.

Student Accessibility Services statement:

Kent State University is committed to inclusive and accessible education experiences for all students. University Policy 3-01.3 requires that students with disabilities be provided reasonable accommodations to ensure equal access to course content. Students with disabilities are encouraged to connect with Student Accessibility Services (SAS) as early as possible to establish accommodations. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on a disability (including mental health, chronic medical conditions, or injuries), please let me know immediately.

SAS can be reached at (330) 672-3391; please visit www.kent.edu/sas for more information.

Personal responsibility and academic integrity statement:

University policy 3-01.8 deals with the problem of academic dishonesty, cheating, and plagiarism. None of these will be tolerated in this class. The sanctions provided in this policy will be used to deal with any violations. If you have any questions, please read the policy at <http://www2.kent.edu/policyreg/chap3/index.cfm> and/or ask.

Please note that any instances of plagiarism will be reported and dealt with in accordance with the policies stipulated in section 3-01.8. Sanctions for a “traditionally” plagiarized assignment will, at the very least, include receiving a 0% on the plagiarized assignment, but may also include more severe consequences as the situation warrants. Sanctions for assignments plagiarized using AI text-generating apps will be more severe and will result in an automatic grade of “F” for the semester. Text-generating apps may not be used in any way for written assignments under any circumstances.

Attendance Policy:

Attendance is mandatory. Any student missing a class will receive an unexcused absence, unless they inform the professor of the absence and provide legitimate reason for it, including any relevant documentation. After 3 unexcused absences, a student will lose a full letter-grade from his or her final grade for each additional absence.

Given H.B. 353, which took effect this past Spring 2023 Semester, students need to be reasonably accommodated in regard to academic requirements, including exams and academic absences, for sincerely held religious beliefs and practices. Under this bill, it is required that students be permitted up to three days of absence per semester, without penalty, for religious holidays or to participate in organized activities conducted under the auspices of any religious or spiritual organization. To ensure compliance with H.B. 353, Kent State University adopted a new administrative policy regarding accommodations for student religious and spiritual beliefs (3-01.14). Under current guidance, students need to submit a request in writing to the instructor within 14 days after the first day of instruction. To review the current policy, see the relevant webpage for the Office for the Provost.

Electronic device policy:

Cel phones and smart phone devices may not be used in class at any time. Laptops or tablets are also prohibited, except if a student has received prior permission from me for their use in class (for note-taking or other academic purposes only, of course). If you would like to use an electronic device for such purposes, please let me know so I can give you clearance for this.
